The Natixis/Vaughan Nelson Value Opportunity Wrap Composite was reconstructed in the third quarter to exclude accounts which pay commissions, consistent with the wrap composite account inclusion policy. Returns shown are preliminary and are subject to change. Performance for periods of less than one year is not annualized. The composite was created in June 2008. The Natixis Vaughan Nelson Value Opportunity wrap composite includes all fully discretionary separate account wrap portfolios managed in the Vaughan Nelson Value Opportunity style. Natixis Advisors, L.P. defines fully discretionary accounts as accounts in which Natixis Advisors has the unrestricted ability to create and maintain an investment program for each account in a manner consistent with the client investment objectives. Accounts are included in the composite in the first full calendar month after management begins. Closed accounts remain in the composite through the last full month under management. The composite includes all discretionary separately managed accounts (i.e., wrap or non-commission-paying accounts) managed in the Natixis/Vaughan Nelson Value Opportunity strategy and subadvised by Vaughan Nelson Investment Management. All accounts are included regardless of size, tax status, or client-imposed restrictions. Performance is expressed in US dollars. Returns are calculated on a total-return basis (appreciation and income), include cash equivalents, and are time weighted using average capital base monthly valuations. Quarterly returns are calculated by linking monthly composite returns through compound multiplication, and annual returns are calculated by linking quarterly returns. Leverage is not used in the composite. Gross performance does not take into account transaction costs, investment advisory fees, custody fees, or other expenses that were charged to clients' accounts or deductions for income taxes. Such fees will reduce investment performance over time. Net returns reflect the deduction of a 3% annual fee, which is the highest wrap program fee applicable to a client account. Standard deviation measures the consistency of the composite's performance results with respect to the individual portfolio returns within the composite. Only portfolios that have been managed for the full year are included in the standard deviation calculation. A complete list and description of the firm's composites are available upon request.

Performance data shown represents past performance and is no guarantee of, and not necessarily indicative of, future results. The Russell 3000® Value Index measures the performance of the broad value segment of the US equity value universe. It includes those Russell 3000® Index companies with lower price-to-book ratios and lower forecasted growth values. The Russell 3000® Value Index is constructed to provide a comprehensive, unbiased, and stable barometer of the broad value market. The Index is completely reconstituted annually to ensure new and growing equities are included and that the represented companies continue to reflect value characteristics. The securities holdings of the composite may differ materially from those of the index used for comparative purposes. Indexes are not investments and do not incur fees and expenses and are not professionally managed. It is not possible to invest directly in an index. Significant dispersion may occur among the holdings and performance of the model portfolio, the client accounts managed by Natixis Advisors using the model portfolio, and the accounts managed by the model portfolio provider on a discretionary basis included in the institutional composite for a variety of reasons.
